

Our clients, Diane Olson (left) and her life partner, Robin Tyler, with me and my law partner John West, as we enter the courtroom where John and I argued that it is unconstitutional to deny same-sex partners the right to marry in California. The Superior Court judge agreed.